

2011-2012 Goleta Baseball Development Program

Player Contract

The experience to participate in the Goleta Baseball Development Program is a privilege, not a right. Therefore, it is crucial that both the player and parent/guardian understand all expectations for participation.

- Player must attend all practices, training session, meetings and games ON TIME
- Player must prepare daily to work hard, hustle and give 100% or more at all times
- Player must exercise self control and emotional discipline at all times
- Player must be willing to learn and be tested, both mentally and physically
- Player must respect the game of baseball, team members, officials, and coaches
- Player must practice good health habits and nutrition, both on and off the field
- Player must accept guidance from coaches and ask questions when misunderstandings occur
- Player must communicate ahead of time via phone call, text or email if training session will be missed. NO EXCUSES!

It is the sole responsibility of the player with guidance from parents and coaches to fulfill the behavior and attitude expectations written above. If a player chooses to violate this contract, consequences will be administered by the coaching staff in the following order.

- Sitting out of training, practice and meetings-- The player must attend but will not be allowed to participate.
- Sitting out of games-- The player must attend the game but will not be allowed to participate.
- Removal from the program-- If a player is removed from the team for continuously violating the contract or for a severe clause, that player will not be reinstated for at least 30 days.

It is necessary that the player wishing to participate in the Goleta Baseball Development Program understand that their primary responsibilities are making appropriate behavior decisions and continuing to be good citizens. All players representing our program will exhibit exemplary sportsmanship at all times.
